

Care and Keeping of your New Denture

Your new denture must be left out of your mouth for 8 hours a day. This is to help the mucosa stay healthy. If the denture is left in for 24 hours a day, you can develop a fungal infection under the denture. Keep the denture in its box when not in use. Put fresh water in the box every day, to keep the denture moist. If the denture develops an odor, you may soak it in a solution of vinegar and water. Clean the denture with a denture brush and mild detergent.
